

One Book, One University

One Book, One University cultivates a culture of reading and discussion in our community by bringing GSU faculty, staff and students together with community members. Reading great literature provokes us to think about ourselves, our environment, and our relationships. Talking about great literature with colleagues, friends, family, and neighbors often adds richness and depth to the experience of reading. The idea behind One Book, One University is to have many people, from different walks of life read the same book at the same time to create a kind of community book club.

Featured text:

Devil in the White City

By Erik Larson

Schedule of Events

October 1, 2005

Online blog discussions begin
<http://gsublog.govst.edu/MT/WhiteCity/>

October 25, 2005 / 4:30 p.m.

Expo: Magic of the White City film presentation

November 2, 2005 / 4:30 p.m.

H.H. Holmes: America's First Serial Killer
film presentation

November 8, 2005 / 3 p.m.

Book discussion group

November 9, 2005 / 6 p.m.

Book discussion group

November 10, 2005 / 7:30 p.m.

Book discussion group

Presented by the Intellectual Life Subcommittee of the Graduate Council.
Sponsored by the University Library, the Office of Public Affairs and the Center for Quality. Questions? Contact Jim Howley at 708.534.5000, Ext. 5082 or j-howley@govst.edu